▼ Academic Achievement Indicators ▼

Arizona's Instrument to Measure Standards (AIMS) is a test designed to measure each student's progress in learning the Arizona Academic Standards. Effective with the Class of 2002 (tenth graders in 1999-2000), students must meet or exceed the Standard on the reading and writing portions of AIMS in order to be eligible for a high school diploma. Students in the class of 2004 must also pass the math portion as a graduation requirement. High school students who did not attain "Meets the Standard" or "Exceeds the Standard" in reading, writing or math will have additional opportunities to retake the test in their junior and senior years. Students in grades 3, 5 and 8 will also take AIMS.

▼ Mathematics Education and AIMS ▼

On April 24, 2000, the state Board of Education amended the high school graduation requirements to include the following: "Effective with the graduating class of 2004, the two required math credits shall be taken consecutively beginning with the ninth grade and course content shall reflect Academic Standards preparation for proficiency at the high school level." Parents should verify with the school that their ninth grade students are enrolled in one or more mathematics courses that provide instruction in the state Board-adopted mathematics standards that lead to proficiency in high school. Students who begin the ninth grade during the 2000-01 school year should be enrolled in a mathematics sequence that is aligned to the state's mathematics standards and includes instruction in the concepts and performance objectives that will be assessed by AIMS. The Board's amendment to the high school graduation requirements should not be interpreted to mean that all ninth grade students must be enrolled in any particular course. The Board's intent is to assure that all ninth grade students are enrolled in courses that prepare students for success on AIMS.

▼ Academic Achievement Indicators ▼

In 1997 and 1998, students in grades 3 through 12 were tested in reading, language and mathematics using the standardized, nationally norm-referenced Stanford Achievement Test, Ninth Edition (Stanford 9). In 1999 and 2000, students were tested in grades 2 through 11. The percentage of eligible students tested (%) and the school's percentile rank score are presented below. State percentile rank scores (AZ) are provided for comparison. Also, note that the percentile rank scores for the nation are 50 for all content areas in all grades.

Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), no individually identifiable references to students may be made. Therefore, items of data containing information about fewer than five students have been replaced with () to protect student privacy. ▼ Measure of Academic Progress ▼

Arizona's Measure of Academic Progress (MAP) is an indicator of student academic growth from one year to the next. The results are based on the Stanford Achievement Test, Ninth Edition (Stanford 9), given in 1999 and 2000. MAP includes only those students who were tested both years in consecutive grade levels at the same school or who started the school year in the same school in which they were tested in 2000. Average student growth over the course of the past academic year is compared to a national average in the table below. One hundred percent (100%) indicates that students in a particular grade level at the school have achieved an average amount of growth compared to a national sample. A percentage greater than 100 percent indicates student growth was greater than the national average.

The MAP is an elementary school (Grades 2-8) indicator only.
